The benefits you may give up on transferring your existing Scheme into your SSAS:

- In a Defined Benefit Scheme (e.g. Final Salary Scheme) you are guaranteed a certain level of pension when you retire. If you transfer from a Defined Benefit Scheme to your SSAS, you will give up the promise of a guaranteed pension and any certain income.
- Your existing Scheme may be protected against inflation up to 5% a year and sometimes more depending on the Scheme rules. This protection starts from the date you left the Scheme until your retirement.
- Your existing Scheme may possibly provide discretionary benefits such as increases to your pension once you retire.
- Your existing Scheme may allow you to retire early on a reduced pension or may provide a pension if you had to retire early because of ill health.
- If you were a member of your existing Scheme (for some Occupational Pension Schemes) on 10 December 2003 then, depending on the rules of that scheme, it is possible that you have a protected early retirement age under that scheme. This protection will normally be lost on transfer.
- It is possible that your tax-free lump sum entitlement accrued prior to 6 April 2006 under your existing Scheme is protected. This tax-free lump sum protection may be lost on transfer.
- It is also possible that you have a protected/enhanced tax-free lump sum under your existing Scheme (if you hold a Personal Pension). This tax-free lump sum may be lost on transfer.
- If you hold Enhanced or Fixed Protection and make a single or regular contribution, or transfer funds into a newly opened pension, there are circumstances under which this protection will be lost and the standard Lump Sum Allowance (LSA), Lump Sum and Death Benefit Allowance (LSDBA), and Overseas Transfer Allowance (OTA) will apply to your pension benefits.
- If your existing Scheme is underfunded and your employer became insolvent, the Scheme will have access to the pension protection fund. This protection will be lost on transfer.
- Any guaranteed benefits, such as guaranteed annuity rates, attached to your existing Scheme will be lost upon transfer to your SSAS.

You understand the risks of holding a SSAS being:

- The pension you get from your SSAS will depend on the amount you transfer and/or contribute, the performance of the investments you choose, charges and how much pension your fund can buy when you decide to retire.
- You, rather than your past/present employer, carry a risk if the investments within your SSAS perform badly.
- Any guaranteed benefits, such as guaranteed annuity rates, attached to an existing personal pension arrangement will be lost upon transfer to a SSAS.
- Once you have transferred rights out of your existing pension scheme, you will not be able to transfer back.
- You confirm that if you are uncertain of your rights or any matter within this application, you will seek independent advice. You wish to proceed with the transfer based on the recommendation and advice you have received from a Financial Adviser.
- You consent to Curtis Banks obtaining details from the administrator/trustee or insurance company or other pension provider of any scheme, contract or arrangement of which you are or have been a member in connection with the transfer and authorise the giving of such details to Curtis Banks.
- You also consent to your adviser in section 5 to obtain the same details.
- You confirm that you have read this declaration in full and understand the nature of benefits you are giving up.

- The transfer will be used to provide benefits under my SIPP administered by Curtis Banks, in accordance with the Rules of the SIPP.
