4 Beneficiaries on death

Benefits on death can be paid to a wide range of beneficiaries, including relatives, dependants, a trust, beneficiaries under your Will and anyone specifically nominated by you. The beneficiaries are determined by the Trustees of the Scheme, taking account of all the information available on your death.

This form allows the eligible range of beneficiaries to be as wide as possible, and for you to nominate any specific persons who you would like benefits to be paid to on your death. It overrides any previous nomination you may have made. The Trustees will be guided by your nomination in determining the actual beneficiaries, but it is not binding on them.

Benefits on death are either a lump sum or income payments. For more details of the benefits payable, please refer to the notes on page 10 or our Benefits Guidance notes, which are available on our website.

You should discuss the setting up of a trust with your solicitor details of the trust above. 	from the
How this form wo	orks	 Death benefits can be paid in the form of either a lump sum or drawdown income. Lump sums can be parange of beneficiaries, including relatives, dependants, a trust, beneficiaries under a Will and anyone nor you. The range of beneficiaries is narrower for drawdown income, unless they have been nominated. For adult child could automatically qualify for a lump sum, but could only receive income if nominated by you it is therefore important to ensure that the widest range of persons is nominated for the ability to receive that restrictions do not apply in practice on your death. Example: John nominates his wife as his beneficiaries are his two adult children. Lump sum benefits can be paid to the would not be able to receive an income as they have not been nominated by John. To overcome this, the declaration in this form achieves two purposes: It nominates specific beneficiaries, as set out in the tables above, as the persons who you would like be paid to; It also nominates, for the purposes of eligibility for a drawdown income, any person who is eligible lump sum. By this means, drawdown income can be paid to the same range of persons as a lump sum can be paid to avoiding the risk that drawdown income cannot be paid to someone because they have not been nominated be paid to someone because they have not been nominated by advising the risk that drawdown income cannot be paid to someone because they have not been nominated be paid to someone because they have not been nominated be paid to someone because they have not been nominated be paid to someone because they have not been	ominated by r example, an ou. ve income, so dent.
